If there are not enough entries in an event for 10 placings, points will be awarded to only those members placing. Points will be awarded at the Finals toward year end totals stated in General Rules, Item 4 and Item 22.

4. There will be ten (8) regular season rodeos. Contestants will carry their top eight (8) placings into the finals. All contestants must wear western attire. Current year t-shirts are the only t-shirts that will be permissible to wear during rodeo competition.

6. IMPORTANT: New to 2025—contestants may wear the 2025 NWOJR ball cap instead of a cowboy hat into the arena. The hat must be facing forward when the contestant enters the arena. Hat rule is still enforced with the ball caps. During Finals Weekend contestants must wear cowboy hats.

IMPORTANT: A contestant who has not broken the plane of the arena or not called for his/her stock may replace his/her hat to comply with the western attire rule.

The hat rule can only be waived by the agreement of three (3) members of the NWOJR Board of Directors. In the event of a waived hat rule, contestants shall not wear caps, do-rags, or other types of hats. Contestants may only choose to wear their western hats or wear no hats of any kind at all should the hat rule be waived.

7. Contestants shall not be velcroed or strapped into a saddle.

8. Unusual, unnecessary or inhumane treatment of stock in any event will result in a no time or disqualification and carry the following penalties:

The time limit for each gate call will be at the judge's discretion. If contestant runs out of order, you will be given a NO TIME.

A collection fee of $25 per check will be assessed. Cash-only entries may be required at the discretion of the NWOJR board.
17. Local entries and walk-ups will be accepted on the day of the rodeo. Calf events, Barrel Racing, Pole Bending, Goat Tying, and Dummy Roping must be entered by 8:00 a.m. Steer Roping events must be entered by 11:00 a.m. Members entering as a walk-up shall pay a $25 late fee.

Roping events have a 30-second time limit, before penalties.

(c) 11-14 and 15-19 Age Groups:

There are no time limits in barrels, poles, and chute dogging.

Goat tying, roping events, and steer wrestling have a 30-second time limit, before penalties.

19. All protests must be accompanied with a $25 cash protest bond. A written protest along with the protest bond must be presented to a NWOJR Board Member. If the protest is ruled in favor of the protestor, the protest bond will be refunded; if not, it will remain with NWOJR. The decision will be made by the NWOJR Board Members who are present at the performance and the judge.
20. In order for a member to compete at the NWOJR Finals Rodeo, each contestant must have competed in one-half of the scheduled regular season rodeos (rounded up in the case of an odd number of regular season rodeos) in each event to be entered in addition to fulfilling his/her obligation in all fund raising activities. Heading and heeling are considered separate events for finals qualifications. Adults roping in the team roping at the finals must also have competed in at least one-half of the regular season rodeos.
21. NWOJR Finals will be two (2) go-rounds. Each contestant will not compete on the same stock (goats, calves or steers) in both go-rounds. Finals contestant order will be drawn for the first day and run in reverse order for the second day. With regard to barrels and poles, the drag placements will be the same for each go-round.
22. Points will be awarded for the top ten (10) places in each go-round and the top ten (10) places in the average. The average is calculated by adding the times or scores together. Points earned will go toward the year-end awards. Finals awards given will be based on times (not points). Points go from 11 (1st place), 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 for each round. Average points go from 10 (1st place), 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 (10th place).
23. Year-End Event Saddles and All-Around Saddles:

Each contestant can only win one Event Saddle in the year-end standings. If contestant has qualified to win more than one Event Saddle, the saddle that he/she will be awarded is determined by the following:

The contestant will be awarded the Event Saddle where he/she has the most accumulated points. Same rule applies if the saddle is passed down further.

Example: Contestant wins the year-end barrels with 50 points and also wins poles with 40 points. The contestant would be awarded the barrel saddle as they have the most accumulated points in barrels. Therefore, the pole saddle would roll down to the 2nd place winner in pole bending.

All-Around Saddles are not Event Saddles, so a contestant may win one (1) All-Around Saddle and one (1) Event Saddle.

There must be a minimum of four (4) contestant members in an event for a saddle to be awarded in that event.

Each member must compete at the Finals in order to receive year-end awards. Hardship cases will be reviewed by the NWOJR Board of Directors on a case-by-case basis.

25. Each member must be present at the Finals awards banquet to receive prizes.

Hardships must be hand written and submitted to the NWOJR board prior to the start of the finals. Hardship cases will be reviewed by the NWOJR Board of Directors on a case-by-case basis.

26. If a rodeo is canceled due to weather or uncontrollable circumstances, the rodeo will not be rescheduled. Canceled rodeo may count as a qualifying rodeo for the events in which a contestant was entered in that particular rodeo. If an event is completed, money will be jackpotted and event points will be awarded, but no points will be awarded toward the All-Around. Any entry for an incomplete event will be rolled to the next rodeo. If the contestant cannot attend the next rodeo, he/she must notify the rodeo secretary by 5:00 p.m. on or before Monday prior to the next rodeo.

27. To be eligible for All-Around prizes, the contestant must have qualified to compete in two (2) or more events. Team roping (whether heading or heeling) is considered one event. Switching ends does not constitute another event.

28. Tie Breaker Rules:

- (1) The champion of any year-end event shall be awarded to the member who has earned the greatest number of 1st place finishes in the same event for the current year.
- (2) Should a tie remain after implementing the preceding tie-breaker provision, then the champion of any year-end event shall be awarded to the member who has earned the greatest number 2nd place finishes in the same event for the current year, which includes the finals results – each go-round and average.
